Informance-the QlikView partner for law firms

At Informance we recognise the importance placed on law firms to know exactly how well their business is doing and which departments, branches, lawyers or matter types are performing the best. But we also know exporting and analysing information on accounts, case material, time-recordings and fee-earners from the Practice Management System can be a time-consuming and often daunting task.

So welcome to QlikView from Informance, the next generation business intelligence reporting tool that enables firms to evaluate the true picture of their business. In just a few clicks, QlikView gives you the analysis you need to make better, more informed decisions on planning, budgeting and forecasting and discover those vital business opportunities buried deep in your firm's database, all displayed in intuitive fee-earner dashboards.

- Work In Progress (WIP)
- Fee Earner Utilisation
- Top Performers
- Accounts Receivable Ageing
- Accounts Receivable Day Sales Outstanding

But don't just take our word for it, see QlikView in action
